Many thanks for your comments below and your earlier email of 6 July 2020 where you noted some issues with the NED sections of both responses in relation to these consultations.

This is just to advise PRT raised these issues with our colleagues in CC&L and CDP last week and are following up again today; unfortunately I note some of our colleagues are still off on annual leave however we are endeavouring to get responses to these issues and prepare a final response for issue later in the week.

I will keep you updated and advise as soon as the response is ready to issue and have copied [REDACTED] and Helen Anderson into this update email for information also.

Thanks

To be aware.

[REDACTED] (Managing Director) of Dalradian Gold is just off the phone to me, on a number of issues related to his project:

- He was explaining his frustration at not being able to move the Consent applications to the advertisement stage. I explained to him that there was a dedicated T&F group working on the issue across EMFG and that a resolution was imminent. Unfortunately he felt the whole process was taking too long particularly as he believed other public sector organisations had found resolutions quicker and were in the process of implementing them. He relayed to me that it was his intention to write to Dennis on the matter, next week.
- He was also concerned that the planning application (EIA Screening) for the Grid Connection for the Mine was currently being held up awaiting a consultee response by a number of consultees, including NIEA. I reassured him that the consultation would be issued next Wednesday.

Regards
